RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN STRATEGY AND BASIC TASKS

FROM STRATEGY TO ORGANISATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

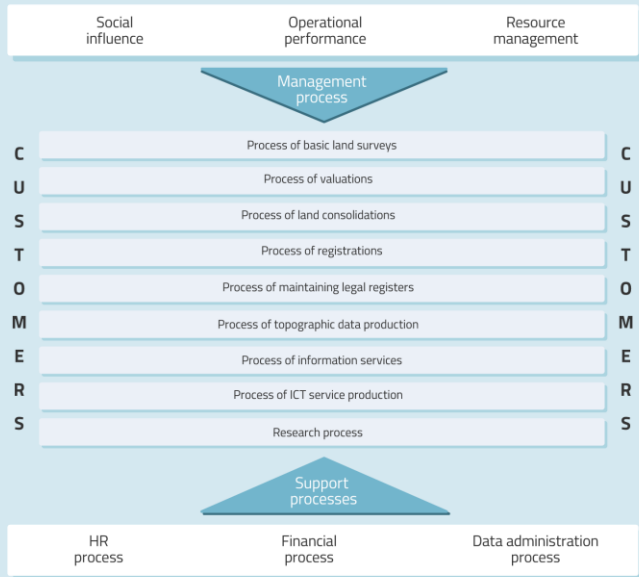

- The management system and organisations have to be developed to ensure that strategic goals are reached
- Each strategic goal has an owner in Central Administration
- The strategy and the actions it requires are checked every year
- The internal structure of the current four operation units are reformed so that they are based on services
- At the same time, we will examine the task distribution between operation units and between the Central Administration and operation units

DEVELOPMENT GOALS

By developing the organisation and the management system, we aim to

- enable continuous growth in productivity
- ensure a high-quality customer experience
- increase cost-effectiveness
- ensure legal security
- ensure modern e-services
- ensure the availability of services nationally
- ensure that our development activities are based on our strategy
- to improve the impact of research
- to ensure the availability of necessary competence
- to improve and ensure internal interoperability
